

ALASKA NURSES ASSOCIATION
Providence Registered Nurses (PRN)
Local Bargaining Unit Rules
Providence Alaska Medical Center
Anchorage, Alaska

ARTICLE I – NAME

The name of this unit shall be the Providence Registered Nurses (PRN) Bargaining Unit, Alaska Nurses Association

ARTICLE II – OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the unit shall be to:

- A. Service the professional employee interests of the registered nurses employed at Providence Alaska Medical Center through education, legislation and other group activity.
- B. Advise and assist the Alaska Nurses Association in its dealings with the Employer concerning grievances, labor disputes, wages, rates of pay, hours of employment, or conditions of work. The Alaska Nurses Association shall be the exclusive bargaining representative on behalf of unit members. Nothing in these rules shall be construed to mean that the Local Unit does more than advise and assist the Alaska Nurses Association in its dealings with employers concerning grievances, labor disputes, wages, rates of pay, hours of employment, or conditions of work.
- C. Promote professional and social unity between registered nurses of Providence Alaska Medical Center and the entire profession.
- D. Promote the Alaska Nurses Association (AaNA) and uphold the AaNA bylaws

ARTICLE III – MEMBERSHIP

- A. Eligibility

Membership eligibility shall be limited to those registered nurses employed at Providence Alaska Medical Center who are eligible to be members of a bargaining unit and who are members of the Alaska Nurses Association. The Alaska Nurses Association shall act as their representative for collective bargaining.

- B. Exclusive rights of individual members. Rights of individual members in good standing shall include but not be limited to:
1. The right to attend membership meetings and participate in the business.
  2. The right to be a candidate for office and as a candidate has the right to have an observer at polling and tallying place.
  3. The right to be notified of an election of officers at least fifteen (15) days prior to an election.
  4. The right to vote for contract ratification, in referendums, in elections and any other matters determined by the elected officers.
  5. The right to file a complaint relative to election procedures. Such complaint must be filed in writing at the local level.
  6. The right to a fair hearing of any disciplinary action.
  7. The right to support the candidate of his choice without interference, penalties, or disciplinary action.
- C. Obligations of individual members. Obligations of individual members in good standing shall include but not be limited to:
1. To pay AaNA dues on a timely basis.
  2. To uphold the rules and policies of AaNA and the local unit. and
  3. To uphold the bylaws of AaNA.
- D. Rights of Bargaining Unit Assessment Fee Payers. Bargaining Unit Assessment Fee Payers are not full members of the Association, yet the Association recognizes their financial contribution to the organization and values their opinions on matters of importance to the bargaining unit as a whole. Therefore, the following provisions are adopted as a method of communication between the members of the Association and the assessment fee payers:
1. Assessment fee payers have the right to participate in an advisory vote on contract ratification. This vote shall be conducted simultaneously with the membership vote. Advisory ballots shall be of a different color than membership ballots and the votes shall be tallied separately.

2. Assessment fee payers have the right to participate in an advisory strike vote. Again, this vote shall be conducted simultaneously with the membership vote. Advisory ballots shall be of a different color than membership ballots and the votes shall be tallied separately.
3. Assessment fee payers have the right to attend General Membership meetings. However, executive sessions (involving only full members) may be called for the purpose of discussing personnel or financial matters.
4. Assessment fee payers shall receive copies of the AaNA Labor Update newsletter.
5. Policy
  - a. All Nurses covered by an AaNA collective bargaining agreement shall be required to pay a representation fee to the Association to cover their fair share of the costs of negotiation and maintenance of that agreement.
  - b. The PRN recognizes that law requires that provisions must be negotiated and, as a result, membership language will differ from contract to contract.
  - c. In the case of the contract between AaNA and Providence Alaska Medical Center, those Registered Nurses who chose not to join the Association nor to pay a bargaining unit representation fee prior to April 30, 2006, are hereby “grandfathered” and not required to pay bargaining unit representation fees nor membership dues for the duration of their uninterrupted employment at PAMC.
  - d. Those Registered Nurses who agreed to pay the one percent bargaining unit representation fee, but not the Beck Audit portion of the AaNA Membership Dues prior to April 30, 2006, shall be “grandfathered” under this arrangement and will not be required to pay the additional Beck Audit percentage of the Membership Dues under the 2006-2009 contract with PAMC.
  - e. Those Registered Nurses hired by Providence Alaska Medical Center after May 1, 2006, shall be encouraged to become full members of the Association with full voting rights. Those individuals who choose not to become full members, shall be required to pay the federally allowed percent allowed by Beck v. Communications Workers of America (June 1988) for AaNA membership dues as well as the representation fee.
  - f. Any Registered Nurse who was a full member of the Association prior to May 1, 2006 and decides to withdraw full membership after May 1, 2006, shall pay the Beck Audit percentage of both the professional dues and representation fee according to the new rules which go into effect May 1, 2006.

E. Compliance

1. Authority. A member may be disciplined by AaNA for cause pursuant to and consistent with the AaNA bylaws.
2. Disciplinary Action
  - a. A member or officer may be expelled, censured or removed from office by an impartial hearing panel appointed by the AaNA Labor Council.
  - b. No disciplinary action shall be taken unless the member is served with specific written charges, including the Article and Section of the Bylaws alleged to have been violated, and has time to prepare a defense.
3. Appeal

The decision of the hearing panel may be appealed to the AaNA Board of Directors, whose decision shall be final.
